November 24, 2023

The Europa-Park Dinner Show has been taking guests on an unforgettable journey to Bella Italia since 17th November 2023. For the 23rd time, visitors at the 'Europa-Park Teatro' are able to immerse themselves in a fantastic world of entertainment and enjoyment for nearly four hours. The unique combination of artistic masterpieces, live music and comedy ensure unforgettable moments until 17th February 2024, as the exquisite 4-course menu by 2* Michelin chef Peter Hagen-Wiest from the 'Ammolite – The Lighthouse Restaurant' pampers guests with culinary delights.

The baroque theatre in the Italian-themed area is the ideal location for a fantastic evening, with 27 international world-class artists presenting a top-class evening program from 17th November 2023 to 17th

February 2024. Visitors can look forward to experiencing a unique mix of impressive artistry, singing, choreographies and thrilling comedy.

Impressive artistry

Ukrainian artists Nikolay Shcherbak and Anatolii Boiko present their incredibly charming, partnered acrobatics filled with speed and power. As two-time world and European champions, the acrobatics duo Shcherbak-Popov show what the human body is capable of. Naoto Okada is also about speed, turning the classic colourful children's toy, the YoYo, into a fascinating, dynamic performance full of music and sophistication.

The parody artist, comedian and entertainer Kay Scheffel launches a frontal attack on the guests' funny bones. He is one of Germany's most famous ventriloquists.

The two brothers Rafa and Paco Olmos from Spain turn the slingshot board into a device of unique artistic spectacle. As the ARTE ALGO duo, they display inspiring jumps, somersaults and plenty of fun!

When Flight of Passion swings up on their straps, the room will suddenly become quiet. The Ukrainian aerial acrobat duo presents their fascinating romantic and expressive choreography high above the audience's heads. A wonderful mixture of aesthetics, harmony and absolute body control, which has already received awards from Monte-Carlo International Circus Festival. Christopher Togni, who is part of the famous 'Togni' circus family, is also sure to amaze with his incomparable body control as he performs each individual movement slowly, almost as if in slow motion, with absolute perfection.

Escalating chaos also goes by the name Stéphane Bulcourt. Wherever the French entertainer shows up, things go a bit haywire. Once it's in motion, it cannot be stopped. The Europa-Park Show Ballet frames its performances with breathtaking choreographies, with the international ensemble not only impressing with its flawless aesthetics and thrilling dynamics, but also with its magnificently colourful costumes.

The evening's musical accompaniment is provided by Maisie Humphreys from England with her beautiful, unmistakable voice and the brothers Steven and Murray Hockridge from London, together with the French singer Virginie Schaeffer. The soulful musicians combine singing, guitar, percussion and cajon to create a very unique style.

Wonderful moments

2* Michelin chef Peter Hagen-Wiest, from 'Ammolite – The Lighthouse Restaurant', has created an exquisite 4-course menu especially for the Dinner Show. This is prepared in the evenings with great dedication from Europa-Park's master chefs.

As a starter, there is arctic char with potatoes, cucumber and crabs. We then continue with a pumpkin and pepper soup and pulpo as an entree course. As a main course, guests are treated to a tender beef fillet alongside with roasted vegetables and red wine jus. The dessert combines a malt slice, buckwheat and fine plum. A vegetarian menu is also available upon request if ordered in advance.

A drinks package can be booked to pair with the culinary highlights. Guests have the choice between alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks. The alcoholic flat rate includes selected wines, beer, soft drinks and coffee specialties. The non-alcoholic version includes all soft and hot drinks, as well as the finest non-alcoholic food accompaniments from Jörg Geiger.

Magical nights

Following the Dinner Show, all visitors who want to keep the magic going in the realm of dreams will find the perfect setting at the hotel resort. Guests can look forward to a wonderful night's sleep on selected dates at one of Europa-Park's six 4* and 4* superior hotels.
